DOIN' DIRT TIME

By Suzi Gablik

Based on a transcript of an astonishing interview by internationally renowned arts commentator Suzi Gablik, "Doin' Dirt Time" raises questions about the traditional role of the arts in society, as two artists dedicate themselves to a radical new art form: living life as a sacred act. An experiment in future-oriented, stripped-back theatre performed by Fern Smith, Philip Ralph and guest artist

"seek not the ways of the men of old; seek instead what they sought"
